Keynote Presentations

Presenter	Topic	Abstract
Keynote Speaker 	"How to Gain e-Freedom from you e-Stresses"	Steve Wells is an internationally recognised psychologist, professional speaker and peak performance consultant. He has 10 years experience as a teacher and psychologist in the Education Department of Western Australia and now runs his own training and consultation business. His presentation will provide you with some powerful strategies for coping with the stresses of being an innovator in a rapidly changing on-line "e-Learning" world. You'll learn some powerful techniques and strategies to help you stay on top of the changes, move beyond the frustrations, and revitalise your teaching and learning experiences.
Keynote Speaker  Dr. Barclay Burns	"Technology Minds: The Science and Practice of Learning and Thinking in a Digital Age"	Dr Barclay Burns is President and Chief Learning Officer of Learning.com, an educator-founded, education-focused company dedicated to helping schools effectively integrate technology into the day-to-day experiences of every student. He has developed and published web-based courses and pioneered electronic curriculum and grading at Brigham Young University. His research into instructional psychology and technology and cognitive neuroscience is reflected in his practical development and use of the EasyTech Instructional Program with students and teachers. His address for this conference, , will be insightful and at the cutting edge of research based on the science of learning and related subjects.
Keynote Speaker Ian Lillico	"Broadening Boys' Horizons – IT and Beyond"	Ian Lillico (a father of three teen-age sons) is the Principal of City Beach High School. He has done action research in many middle schools throughout Australia, New Zealand, UK, USA and Europe during his Churchill Fellowship last year. He has held the positions of teacher, HOD, Deputy Principal and Principal with the Department of Education in Western Australia over the past 27 years. As a widely recognized speaker and advocate in the area of Boys in Education, Ian's keynote presentation promises to be entertaining, illuminating and practical.
